Organizational Restructuring Plan, Q4 2026 (Project Juniper)

Version	Date	Owner	Distribution	Change
v5	Oct 9, 2026	R. Okafor (CFO), P. Ramanathan (VP People)	CEO, CFO, VP People, GC ONLY	eng cut reduced 16 -> 12

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL. Project Juniper. Distribution limited to the CEO, CFO, VP of People and General Counsel. Do not discuss with managers until the manager briefing on November 9. Unauthorized disclosure may result in termination.

Objective. Reduce monthly net burn from 1.9 million dollars to below 1.2 million dollars by the end of Q1 2027, extending runway beyond 2029 without new capital. The plan reduces headcount by 58 roles, about 14 percent of the company, and eliminates 1.3 million dollars of annual vendor spend.

- Sales development: 14 roles, consolidating to a single team in Austin
- Marketing: 9 roles, including the events team
- Customer success: 11 roles, moving SMB accounts to a pooled model
- Engineering: 12 roles, primarily the embedded SDK team and legacy reporting
- G and A: 8 roles across finance, IT and recruiting
- Product and design: 4 roles

Timeline. The manager briefing occurs on Monday, November 9 at 8:00 AM Eastern. Affected employees are notified in individual meetings on Tuesday, November 10, between 9:00 AM and 12:00 PM local time. A company wide all hands follows at 1:00 PM Eastern. System access for affected employees is removed at 9:00 AM on November 10, before notification meetings begin.

Severance. Affected employees receive 10 weeks of base pay plus one additional week per year of service, capped at 20 weeks. COBRA premiums are covered for 4 months. Equity vesting accelerates by 3 months. Employees on visas receive an additional 4 weeks of pay and immigration counsel support. Total estimated severance cost is 3.6 million dollars, recorded as a restructuring charge in Q4.

Legal considerations. Because the Austin office reduction affects fewer than 50 employees at a single site, a WARN Act notice is not required, but counsel recommends a disparate impact analysis, which has been completed and shows no adverse impact by age, gender or race at the 80 percent threshold. Employees over 40 receive 45 days to review the release under OWBPA.

Communications. The CEO will send a company wide email at 12:45 PM Eastern on November 10. Customer facing teams will receive talking points for accounts whose customer success manager is affected. Talking points emphasize that the change focuses the company on real time analytics and the AI analyst. Do not mention the Ferrolake acquisition in the context of the restructuring.

Retention. A retention grant pool of 1.4 million dollars in RSUs is reserved for 35 remaining employees identified as critical, primarily in platform engineering and Project Lantern. Retention letters will be delivered on November 11.

Contingency. If news leaks early, notifications move to the next business morning. [PR: still need final list from Marketing, Heather was out sick, chasing Thurs]

Selection criteria

Roles were selected primarily by function elimination (embedded SDK, events, legacy reporting) rather than individual performance. Where a function was reduced rather than eliminated, selection used documented performance ratings from the last two cycles and critical skills mapping. Managers proposed lists; People and Legal reviewed every list. 7 names were removed from lists after review due to pending leave, recent complaints, or insufficient documentation.

Outplacement services from an external provider will be offered for 3 months at a cost of about 1,900 dollars per person. Laptops may be kept by affected employees after IT wipes them remotely.

Risks. Leakage before November 9 is the largest risk. We have observed increased recruiting outreach from Varnetta to our customer success team. Morale impact on the remaining team is expected; managers will receive training on November 9 afternoon. A second smaller reduction is not planned and should not be implied.

FAQ for managers (draft)

Q: Why now? A: To reach profitability without raising more money, and to focus on real time analytics and the AI analyst. Q: Are more cuts coming? A: There are no further reductions planned. Do not say 'never'. Q: Can affected employees apply for open roles? A: Yes, the 7 remaining open roles will be visible to them first for two weeks. Q: What about people on leave? A: They are not included in this round; People team will handle any changes individually after their return. Q: Can I tell my team early? A: No. Any manager who discloses before November 10 will be subject to disciplinary action.
